BIG DAY AT BETHANY

The Long Family in Reunion--Some Two Thousand Present--Fine Dinner Served--A Great Day.

Saturday was a red letter day for the descendants of Thomas Lange (Long) when they met in the first annual reunion at Bethany Reformed Church, in Davidson County. There were approximately 1500 of the descendants present and some 300 friends of the neighborhood. The descendants are scattered all over the country and they came from the various states of the union to do honor to the occasion.

Thomas Lange, the original name for Long, settled in the Bethany neighborhood in 1740, coming there from Germany.

He raised a large family and the three thousand descendants of which about half were present, shows that each succeeding generation followed in his footsteps in this particular.

The table erected for the dinner was 200 feet long and completely covered with good things to eat and after feeding the 2000 people there was plenty left. It was a great day for the people assembled. The following program was carried out.

People After Good Streets

The next day after the bond issue was carried the petitions were being freely circulated for street improvements, particularly Washington Street, as noted in these columns last week. At the meeting of the city council Friday night Washington Street presented its petition in proper shape and received the O. K. approval. East Washington, Steele South Main, Richardson and Centennial also had petitions in course of legal form and there are others to be heard from this week. Good streets is the slogan now from every quarter.

Why Not Accept It?

J. Elwood Cox, of the Commercial National Bank, has offered to loan the city $50,000 in order to get to work at once on the street proposition, while the bonds are being advertised and sold. We think this is an excellent idea and we believe the City Council should accept it forthwith. There is certainly nothing to lose and all to gain by it.

IN MEMORY OF EARLY CLOD-FELTER

'Twas the middle of August, When a lad so dear;

Took his flight with the angels, To heaven near.

He was called away, From the ones he loved best;

But he was glad to go, To his happy home of rest.

He is waiting for his loved ones, In that happy home of love;

When they meet they'll part no never, In that happy home above.

They laid him deep beneath the sod, And his home is now with God;

Where there's no sin or sorrow known, He is near the white throne.

Yes, they loved him, Now they'll miss him;

And he's gone forever more, But perhaps they'll meet in Heaven--

On that bright and golden shore. J. C. and A.

The capital rating of the High Point furniture factories and the allied industries has increased more than a million and a half in the past six years as given in the "Red Book" recognized as an authority on rating.

There are 43 furniture and allied factories including veneers, lumber, etc., with a capital rating of $4,525,000.

In 1910 the "Red Book" gave the capital rating of the 32 industries at $2,987,000. This is a gain of $1,538,000 for the half dozen years and a big gain in the furniture interests.

Miss Bessie Hill Hackney has been chosen assistant secretary of the industrial committee of the commercial club and will at once take up her duties in the office of Secretary Clark. She has had considerable experience in this work and High Point is fortunate in securing her services.

The Review is of the opinion that it will do no good to talk too much about the bond issue; pro nor con now since it has been put down as carried. Both sides have the privilege of their convictions and nothing good ever came from trying to force a person to another's way of thinking, even before or afterwards. We trust this is explicit enough.

PLEASE RESPOND PROMPTLY

Owing to the exceedingly high price of newspaper we are compelled to insist on payment of all arrears to the Review. Print paper has advanced 150 per cent. the past year and 50 per cent. the past 30 days. The paper alone costs us more than we get out of the printed sheet. Isn't this condition of affairs enough to cause you to come to the rescue--pay what you are honestly due? We think so.

GIVEN A ROAD SENTENCE

Lester Pethal a negro with a bad character, was given six months on the roads in recorder's court Friday, for larceny at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Cummings on the corner of Willowbrook and Russell streets. Mr. Cummings saw the negro in the house and forthwith nabbed him, using Dr. McCains auto to bring the negro to the house of justice. The scarf pin was found in the possession of Pethal. Neighbors have noticed the negro loitering around that section for sometime. Recently Dr. Hayes missed a coat and was found in Pethal's room. Doubtless there are several more cases to the credit of the negro.

APPENDICITIS!

How often have we written the word in the Review which meant life to many and death to several, from the knife, and to think the editor is now afflicted with the disease and that he must eventually lose his appendix or perhaps something worse! The word appendicitis looks bigger than ever now! If this sheet of information fails to reach you some week in the future, it may be on account of a forced stay in the city hospital--that is if the printer's devil can't do the trick and issue the paper.

We don't expect to croak but if we do you can settle with the madam and on the other hand if there is any one we owe (and we can't recall it) who doesn't owe us more than we owe them, we welcome all such bills and they will be paid instantly. We don't want to even take a chance at leaving you without making everything square.

In the meantime the price of newspaper continues to soar highward and we take this method of asking your support in the crisis by paying your past due subscriptions at once.
